

THE CITIZEN.

SATURDAY, - - - MARCH 24, 1877.

SOUTHERN ARIZONA TO THE FRONT.

The Approach of the Southern Pacific Railroad—The Tucson and Guaymas Railroad—The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad—The Completion of the Overland Telegraph to the Eastward—Daily Mail Service—Immense Rich Mines—Finest Grazing Lands in the World.

THE CITIZEN is not given to sensation. But it has been and is the true and steadfast friend of Southern Arizona. And in the face of the frauds sought to be perpetrated, and the constant slanders daily sent out, by the selfish enemies of this, the fairest portion of our Territory, it is with a feeling of supreme satisfaction that we call the attention of our people to the above bill of fare. The tables are already arranged, the service is nearly ready and it is fully time to consider the repast.

The Southern Pacific railroad will in a few days now, land passengers at Yuma, and a flood of prospectors, miners, laboring men and capitalists will swell the lists already here. We give very encouraging news of the Tucson and Guaymas railroad elsewhere—a road said to carry one of the most valuable franchises ever granted. The latest news from the Denver and Rio Grande road, says it is being carried forward with renewed force, will soon be in New Mexico and rapidly work its way south. All roads lead to and through Southern Arizona. Mr. Butler of the overland telegraph, running east from Tucson and connecting with the line in New Mexico, informs us that connection will be made by April 1. In view of the unprecedented growth of this section of the Territory, the Postmaster-General has ordered the immediate service of daily mail through the heart of Southern Arizona. The great mining claims south, east and west of Tucson, and stretching across Southern Arizona from the rich deposits of Pinal county to the Colorado river; the great natural pastures of Southeastern Arizona, covering millions of acres, watered with numerous streams and creeks, and bearing the finest grasses known—all join to make this the most favored and promising section of Arizona. On this March morning of 1877, every honest citizen of this section has reason for congratulation and pleasant anticipations.

The "What is It?"

There has been a thing for years in and about Prescott, which, for convenience, has been known by and answered to the name of John H. Merion—as dogs and some other beasts are known and respond. Many people, owing to the thing's appearance, or conduct, or both, have expressed doubts as to whether it were more nearly related to the human or brute species, and a gentleman quite familiar with the thing, recently handed us a paper on it, in which almost positive ground is taken that it confirms the Darwin theory—it being held to be the "connecting link." Having no desire to even indirectly humble the human species, nor to underrate the character of the beasts of the field, the communication was rejected. Among those most familiar with the thing, there is a candid difference of opinion as to its correct classification, and some have hope that if it were in scientific hands, more or less curious if not useful facts might be ascertained.

In various California newspapers, we find weekly items of sheep being started from California to Arizona, in bands ranging from 5,000 down to as many hundreds. The continued efforts by the California press to decry our Territory as a sheep country, and the misfortune of some of our earlier sheep men, have somewhat retarded the movement, but the fact is growing every day more and more patent that Arizona is after all far superior to California as a sheep country, and the movement hitherto is constantly on the increase. There will be failures yet. Men who were born for the sole purpose of being hung and who were never intended as a success in any other line, will go into sheep here and fail. And there will probably, yet as in the past, be failures through bad luck among genuine sheep men here. But we honestly believe, that on the average, any one who can raise sheep elsewhere with profit, can do still better with them in Arizona.

A RECENT letter from Guaymas informs us that the prospects of the Tucson and Guaymas railroad are very much improved, and our informant expects any day to have the pleasant news to send us that negotiations now pending have been completed and construction of the road to Arizona assured. We do not like to be too sanguine, but a number of circumstances tend to make the above consummation quite probable and near at hand.

A petition has been sent by those interested, to Messrs. Sargent and Booth, asking that the mail route from San Diego to Yuma be continued on the same line now run by Kerens & Mitchell's stages. It is supposed that the regular San Francisco mails will soon be carried via Southern Pacific Railroad. The petition states that a number of new settlements along the old route to Yuma will be accommodated by keeping up regular mail communication as heretofore.

The Pima Indian Troubles.

We have been shown a letter from the Pima and Maricopa Indian reservation. The letter is too long for publication entire but the following are some of the points given. The writer says: On Wednesday, the 14th inst., in company with Mr. Otero and friend, I went down to the village where the stolen cattle were. Finding an old captain of the village, we got him to send for some of the principal men and also those claiming the stock. When they came I explained matters to them, how that they had some stolen stock and it would be better to give the cattle up peaceably. From what I can learn I have no idea the Indians stole the stock, but simply that a Mexican, (the Indians give his name), stole the cattle and drove them to the reserve where he traded the three steers for one work ox. As Otero claims that the trail which he detected only showed three head, there were probably no more. After telling the Indians that they must give the cattle up, they replied that we must get the Mexican who traded the steers to them and make him first give satisfaction for the ox. We said if they would give up the steers, we would do all in our power to find the ox and that they could send a couple of Indians along to help. They finally agreed to bring the steers up to the corral the next morning. When the time came, however, the steers were not on hand, and when I put an Indian on horseback and told him to go and find them, another Indian galloped up and shouted to him to stop and was joined by others. They then insisted on our first getting the man with whom they traded. I pictured to them the results of refusal but all to no purpose. And so the matter stands. The sooner they are taught a lesson about buying stolen property, the better. Talk is in vain. They complain however that they are obliged to give up stolen stock found with them, while others holding their stock are allowed to go free. The village seems divided upon the question of giving up the stock. I think there are other villages close by. Mr. Otero, who lost the cattle, seems to be a good man, and has been at considerable expense in the matter. As soon as I get instructions shall do all in my power to get the cattle.

Globe District.

GLOBE CITY, March 13, 1877.

EDITOR CITIZEN: The mail for this district via San Carlos has been discontinued, and mail will hereafter have to be sent via Florence. Here are some mining items.—Van Arsdale & Co's copper plate smelting furnace, with late improvements, is a grand success. It has been running for a number of days without intermission, turning out one ton of fine copper bullion per day. All of which brings new life to the copper business here. The miners and prospectors are beginning to look after their old copper locations in earnest. Mr. Garrish, who erected this furnace, and sold his interest to the company, is about erecting other furnaces and we all wish him success, as he deserves it. Mr. Kennedy's silver smelter was fired up to-day. He is a practical man and his work will meet with success. The Morrell and Fresh mills are not crushing ore now, probably waiting for roasters, the ores being generally very base, especially the rich ore. If some mill man would bring a good ten-stamp quartz mill and roaster to this district, we should soon have all the bullion we would want. Some capitalist will probably soon see the great advantages of this district in rich ores, timber, water and grasses, and strike it rich here. Among San Franciscans here are Mr. Wyman, who recently purchased the Silver Bell for $15,000, and is negotiating for other claims; also Mr. Haskins and many other men of capital investing in claims. I say "claims," for we do not know that we have a mine in the Territory, but we have got some of the finest prospects in the world, among the best of which are the Miama, Ramboz, Perdoza, Blue Bird, Sherman, Silver Bell, Elisabeth, Clampon, Buckeye, and Richmond Basin, with here bosom of chlorides and sulphates. We have no small-pox in the district, and health is good.

Land Items.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Regulations will be prepared and issued some time this month by the Interior Department to carry into effect the new law providing for the sale of desert lands. Among the amendments agreed on by the Conference Committee, and enacted as part of the bill, was one requiring a cash payment of twenty-five cents per acre at the date of making application for entry.

The Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, as it became a law, provides that the cost of surveying ordinary public lands shall not exceed $10 per mile for standard lines, $7 for township and $6 for section lines; but authorizes the General Land Office to allow for the survey of heavily timbered or mountain regions as much as $16 per mile for standard lines, $14 for township and $10 for section lines. The act also provides that its appropriations for surveys of the public lands will be available immediately.

If the Alta California were at all disposed to be just towards Arizona civil and military affairs, we would respectfully ask its attention to Governor Sanford's absolutely truthful reply to General Kautz's late deliberately prepared misrepresentation of both civil and military affairs in Arizona.

Late News.

March 17, the Senate confirmed the nomination of Frederick Douglass as U. S. Marshal for District of Columbia. There was a strong protest from the district bar association. St. Patrick's day was generally observed, and in Washington, President Hayes reviewed the procession. Complete returns from New Hampshire election give the first Congressional district to the Democrats, Jones being elected by forty-five plurality. The delegation stands, two Republicans and one Democrat; last Congress it was vice versa. Serious trouble is anticipated with starving miners around Scranton, Pa. General McClellan has been nominated by Governor Tilden, as Superintendent of public works in New York. P. H. Emerson has been confirmed as associate justice, supreme court of Utah. There is a sensational report, that the Hayes party have secured enough southern votes to make themselves certain of the organization of the next House, and that this has been effected by railroad power. Postmaster-General Key is said to be in constant receipt of letters from the South, advising to break away from all party lines and to join in new order of things. Four treasury clerks took $10,000,000, in 4½ per cent bonds, on March 19. There are dark hints that the Secretary of the Treasury is in collusion with the clerks and has sent the bonds to the Syndicate in Europe. In the language of the Los Angeles Express, "thus we go; the taint of corruption," &c., &c. The Chicago Post's Washington special of the 20th, says the Cabinet has decided to retain the troops in the South for the present. In the Ohio Legislature, March 20th, Stanley Matthews was nominated by the Republicans for United States Senator. Democrats made no nomination. Joint convention was to meet on 21st, to officially declare Matthews' election. At New Orleans, on 19th, affairs looked stormy. About a thousand colored men from the country were gathered about the State House, in the morning, to join Governor Packard's militia. He said he would soon attempt to relate police stations. His backers were hot for war, and there seemed no doubt he would break the peace in a few days. It was said he was negotiating for the purchase of arms, and only desired non-interference from the federal troops. The Nichols' faction had filed a petition for ejectment of Packard from State House, and had arrested several of the latter's recruiting officers.

The Postmaster-General has ordered daily mail service over the Southern Pacific mail line, from San Diego to Mesilla, commencing April 1. Tri-weekly mail will continue as now and mail on the extra days will be carried on light wagons. A Washington special to the Chicago Journal, of March 21, says the Cabinet after several days consideration, have not yet come to any conclusion except that the statu quo shall be maintained in South Carolina and Louisiana so far as the general condition of the governments in those States is concerned, until a commission can investigate, and report as to the proper course to be pursued; and that the cabinet has also decided upon an extra session of Congress to be called June 4. Speaker Rand II does not share in the apprehension that the Republicans will secure the organization of the next House. He also says incidentally, that the election of Jones, Democrat, to Congress, in the first New Hampshire district, cost $50,000. At Charleston, S. C., March 20, Judge Reed gave a decision in the habeas corpus case, releasing the prisoner on the ground that Chamberlain has no authority as Governor. A. Oakley Hall, ex-Mayor of New York has disappeared, and they are trying to find out whether he has committed suicide or made away with himself. Stanley Matthews was duly declared elected U. S. Senator, at Columbus, O., March 21. J. Don Cameron was elected U. S. Senator, at Harrisburg, March 21, vice Simon Cameron, resigned. Despatches from New Orleans present variety at least. March 20, the city was very quiet; next day, "celebration" was hourly expected. On the 21st, Senator Demas, colored, who had been acting with Nichols' Legation, went over to Packard's Legation, and over to Packard's Legation, completing the latter's claimed quarant. On the 1st, at San Francisco, the bears had got on top of the stock market and squeezed the stuffing out of it; panic prices had been reached. Gold that day, in New York, 161½; Greenbacks in San Francisco, 96 1/2.

The trial of Major Reno, Seventh Cavalry, at Fort Abernethy, is based upon charges of infamous proposals offered by the Major to Mrs. Captain Bell; opinion seems to be that he will be found guilty. Christianity may get Mexican mission; Foster, the Spanish; G. W. Curtis, the English; Frelinghuysen, the Berlin, &c. Senator Davis and Vice-President Wadsworth were appointed, March 22, on the Louisiana commission, but declined to go. It is said that the troops are to be immediately withdrawn from South Carolina. Cabinet had not decided on Southern action, March 22. Oakley Hall turns up at Jamaica, L. I., fishing for trout. He is well. Dr. Leal left Yuma for Tucson, March 22. Deputies of Louisiana don't like appointment of investigating committee.

YUMA, March 22.—To JOHN WASSON: Daily mail commencing April 1st from Tucson to San Diego. Through stage leaves every other day commencing Sunday, April 1st. Please publishing. KERNES & MITCHELL.

YUMA, March 22, Evening.—To JOHN WASSON: Col. Gray, who has just returned from San Francisco, by railroad, assures us that end of road will come out near Hanton's ferry, by middle of April. C. W. Tozer, J. W. Shaffer and W. S. Hobart, mining capitalists of large means leave here tomorrow for Florence and Tucson. Messrs. Moore and Mitchell, also, for Tucson. Everything will be on time for daily mail. Samaniego's train leaves tomorrow for Tucson. Capt. Berningham, of C. S. N. Co., and Capt. Foster, of C. P. railroad, left here yesterday for San Francisco. They have inspected C. S. N. Co's property, and it is understood, the inspection was satisfactory, and transfer of steamers &c. to railroad company takes place April 1.

Florence and Tucson and their Surroundings.

A private letter from Tucson, received by T. H. Goodman, General Passenger Agent of the Central Pacific Railway, gives the annexed information concerning Arizona towns, which were not mentioned at length in the Arizona articles recently published in this paper: "Florence is the point from which stages start for Globe, Pioneer and other mining camps, and is to some extent the source of supplies for those districts. Tucson I like very much. The whole town is built of adobe. The residents are so exceedingly hospitable that the stranger cannot help feeling contented. The climate is genial and healthy. It is now—February 20th—as warm as June weather of the Eastern States, and although it becomes rather hot in the summer, people who have lived here for years, say they do not suffer from the heat, as the houses owing to their peculiar style of construction are always cool. The nights are invariably cool and pleasant. I believe this to be the richest mineral country in the United States. Immense copper mines and low grade argilliferous galena mines are numerous, and only need the completion of the railroad as far as this place to make them pay large dividends to whoever may develop them. In fact the whole country is full of mines, some of them so rich that they pay handsomely now by shipping 400 miles by wagon, thence to San Francisco or New York. Tucson has an immense trade. It is a live place, and is destined to become an important city."—S. F. Bulletin, March 14.

A letter from Mineral Park, dated March 14, says: On Friday night last, the 9th instant, the Hackberry mill was destroyed by fire. As the company have always dealt liberally with every one and paid the highest wages going, and paid all it owed, people are at a loss to surmise who could have committed the cowardly act—as it was undoubtedly set on fire by an incendiary, no fire for use having been in it for some months. It was the intention to soon start the mill. Fortunately, the company have a new ten-stamp mill en route, and will rebuild. It is a hard blow, but the mine is a good one and they can't burn that.

SAN DIEGO UNION, March 9.—The rush to southeastern Arizona continues. The Orizaba brings down a number of passengers to take stage here for the Territory.

BORN. In Tucson, March 17, 1877, to the wife of F. H. Goodman, a son.

MARRIED. At Phoenix, March 15, 1877, by the Rev. E. W. Wiley, J. D. Monahan and Miss Joseph C. Lanville.
